Helium Usage and Supply Statement

Apple Rubber Products is committed to maintaining a resilient and transparent supply chain to ensure the continuous delivery of high-quality products to our partners. Regarding recent inquiries concerning helium availability:

Direct Operations

Apple Rubber does not utilize helium in any of our internal manufacturing, testing, or operational processes.

Supply Chain

Based on our current supply chain assessments, helium is not used by our sub-tier suppliers in the production of components or materials provided to our customers.

Operational Impact

Because our operations and products are not dependent on helium, we do not anticipate any disruptions to our production schedules or delivery capabilities due to helium market shortages. We continue to monitor our supply chain to ensure ongoing stability and compliance with all partner requirements.
